Project: Summit, New Jersey

This intimate reading nook was created in an unused space on the 2nd floor landing in a home in Summit, New Jersey.

The custom painted wood bookshelves and windowseat were designed around the contrasting dark window to give the family a light-filled space that felt tucked away from the activity of home. The area was accented with plenty of lighting including polished nickel sconces and an overhead ceiling fixture. The space was further detailed with a custom rug with a nailhead border and dramatic art by Misaki Kawai. - Valerie Grant
